CALIFORNIA MUST HAVE MORE DRUNKEN TOURISTS

"California is finding closer and closer competition in bidding for the tourist travel over the world," S. F. B. Morse is quoted as saying in a bulletin issued by the Northern California Business Council. And also "Unless California adopts Proposition No. 2 on the November ballot, making it possible for wine, beer and liquor to be served in eating places . . . we can consider a large part of our tourist travel lost."

The point to this rapid line of talk being that we must have more and more drunks and more drunken drivers in California if we are to survive. A tourist coming in to California must be able to get soused at the first place a sandwich is sold and for the sake of tourist travel every facility must be maintained to keep the tourist drunk.

It is not quite clear whom, besides the saloon keepers, those drinking tourists will benefit, and until some argument a little more sensible is advanced, the voter will do well to VOTE NO on proposition No. 2.

CHEERS FOR CAMPBELL AND MARTIN

Contrary to current political gossip, Argyle Campbell and Carmel Martin turned thumbs down on Upton Sinclair, Democratic nominee for governor. To reject Mr. Sinclair officially, has taken a great deal more courage than the majority of the county committees have shown but the ranks are widening and Mr. Sinclair's election is not nearly as certain as it was a few weeks ago.

And if elected Mr. Sinclair will hear more from these rebelling County Committees, particularly "when a feller needs a friend".

RED CROSS TRULY GREAT ORGANIZATION

Although the Red Cross workers go quietly about their tasks, they do an almost unbelievable amount of good in the community as is attested to by the following report of the past year's activities:

Amount expended for milk, $539.85; groceries, $1581.84; laundry, $31.82; drugs and laboratory tests, $180 (this amount through free clinic money); office interviews, 1856; visits, 962.

It is easy to see by looking at the amount spent that some, probably many, would have gone hungry had it not been for the Red Cross; many children would have been deprived of milk which is necessary to their development and many ailing would have been uncared for.

The Red Cross stands ready to help those who are in need. You are going to be asked to become a part of this great organization. You can give to your utmost, knowing that the needy will benefit from your generosity.

SINCLAIR'S EFFECT ON CALIFORNIA BONDS

California's outstanding bonds have depreciated more than $50,000,000 since Upton Sinclair's threat of EPIC has loomed; realty values are dropping as well as other securities and what the real effect of Sinclair's election will be can only be imagined. One thing is pretty certain, present interests are not going to pay for EPIC if they can help it and by the time Upton Sinclair can get under way there will not be enough CASH left in the state for the "EPICS" to buy stamps with.

ANOTHER ANONYMOUS LETTER FROM A SINCLAIRITE

We heard a speaker at a Sinclair meeting make the brash statement that the writing of anonymous letters was to be stopped but they still keep pouring in to the Sun office. Below we give one that was written to the editor in reply to an editorial in the Sun headed "The Free Press Is Still Free."

Alright Mr. Bunch. Now let us have a stinging editorial arraigning the P. G. & E. This company has made handsome profits during the depression and have done nothing for the people in the way of reduced rates. They are advertisers in your newspaper and according to your article (attached) in no way influence your editorial policy!

Pay no attention to their claims as to their rates. But compare their rates with community owned plants.

Let them look out for a solar plexus blow after November election. Sinclair is going to win. All the reactionary forces in California cannot prevent this.

Very truly yours,
GEORGE BUNGLE

Unfortunately we can't write that "stinging editorial arraigning the P. G. & E." by comparing their rates with community owned plants. We have before us a copy of a bulletin sent out by the U. S. Government comparing the rate of the P. G. & E. with the AVERAGE RATE charged by all municipally owned and privately

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE TAKE WEDDING FLIGHT

Evolving from the old time "melodrammer," "The Drunkard," with its old fashioned love theme, the marriage of Galt Bell, manager of that company and Connie Clappett Shuman in an up-to-date setting brings a thrill to their many Carmel friends.

The wedding was a dramatic one in that the young couple after a year's engagement, procured their license and found that Mr. Bell had to return to the Los Angeles production before the three-day wait required in California should expire. Their friend Baron Maximilian Von Romberg, offered the use of his plane and Mr. Bell and Mrs. Shuman in company with Peggy Converse, with the baron as pilot, left for Yuma, Ariz., where they were married by a judge who was an old friend of the bride's family.

The bride is a daughter of the late Dr. Frederick W. Clappett, a noted Episcopalian minister and Mrs. Clappett, who resides in Carmel. She spent several years of her life here and was a worthy addition to the plays produced in Carmel by professionals and non-professionals. When Mr. Bell produced "The Drunkard" here, she had a leading part and has kept on with the company since its production in the Palace Hotel in San Francisco.

Mr. Bell has become quite famous with his two companies of "The Drunkard" which have had long runs and increased popularity and Carmel is proud to remember that the play was started here in the Denny-Watrous gallery.

Mrs. Bell was back in San Francisco in time for the show Monday night and Mr. Bell was back with his Los Angeles company, but Carmel will have a chance to give them a royal welcome next Sunday when they meet here for the first time after their separation at the opening show of the Denny-Watrous gallery. Many things are being planned in their honor.

BYRON G. NEWELL BUYS PERCY'S MEAT MARKET

Byron G. Newell, who has been connected with Percy's Meat Market for the past three years, has bought out Mr. Whitworth and is now sole owner of the market where he will continue to serve the public.

Mr. Whitworth informed a Sun reporter that he would go into business again in Carmel probably on Ocean avenue.

owned electric plants in the United States and the figures are most discouraging to anyone who wants to attack the P. G. & E. on a comparative rate basis.

The average rate for Domestic service of privately owned electric plant is 2.8 cents per kilo as against the LOWER rate of 1.5 per kilo of the P. G. & E.; municipally owned plants, the kind the writer of the anonymous note is so hot for, sell their energy to consumers for 5.6 per kilo, or nearly FOUR TIMES as much as the P. G. & E. rate of 1.5 per kilo for the same type of service.

Domestic service (principally household uses) the private owned plant rate is 5.6 per kilo against the LOWER rate of 4.4 per kilo of the P. G. & E. The municipally owned plant rate is 4.7 against the slightly lower rate of 4.4 per cent of the local company.

Six classes of service are tabulated in the government report and in all of them the rate by the California company is LOWER.

Many editors over the state do attack the P. G. & E. on various questions; many of them support political candidates who are after the public utilities and they still carry the company advertising.

But any attack on anyone must be based on FACT and not a grudge or wild idea. George Bungle, who is quite evidently afraid or ashamed to sign his name, proves at least two things by his letter—anonymous letter writers are not only cowardly but invariably ignorant yokels.

KRISHNAMURTI TALKS WITH GROUP AT PETER PAN LODGE

(By Dora Hagemeier)

Answering questions for a group at Peter Pan Lodge last Sunday afternoon Krishnamurti again turned the clear light of simplicity upon a maze of abstract ideas. The questions themselves revealed the effect of confused thinking on the human mind . . . the grasping for doctrines, formulas, for security; and these treasured possessions, when brought forth and calmly looked upon, lost substance and left the questioner defenceless.

This defencelessness is perhaps the essential quality of that "alert and vital" living which Krishnamurti speaks about. He points out the extreme cunning of the mind as it constantly surrounds itself with protection against life. This seeking of refuge; this avoidance of the actual sharp contact, is to him the main cause of our despair. We grasp as madly as the drowning for these promises of safety, yet in the very grasping we die; for we do not grasp the essential truth . . . that life itself is the answer to our questioning.

To Krishnamurti, acquisitiveness is more than the desire for material possessions. It is that attitude of the mind which sees itself separate from its surroundings and therefore strives to protect itself against circumstance. Whether this results in the amassing of fortunes, or in the collection of ideas or in the struggle for perfection it does not matter. It is all acquisitiveness; all an effort at self-protection; and the strange thing is that it defeats its own end and leaves the possessor at the mercy of his possessions. The whole idea of acquisitiveness was turned inside out and revealed for what it was.

Out of this system of possessiveness naturally arises exploitation. In order to retain this false safety we are forced to exploit our fellow-man, whether through work, ideas or religion, it does not matter. It is all force; exploitation. It is all a matter of walling ourselves in . . . protecting ourselves . . . refusing to meet life.

The question naturally arose as to what must be done after having seen this. How could we free ourselves? Should we give our property away, give up our ideas, leave our churches? Krishnamurti again refused to dogmatize. Perception, he said, was of the utmost importance here; but it must be one's own perception and not an idea accepted on authority from someone else. If we could once see this absolutely and profoundly we would be already free.

One of the most significant things said during this talk was that in protecting ourselves against life, we never really know what life is. It was pointed out that in times of crisis, all things fall away; a transfiguration of the whole being takes place; reason, emotion and action are poised in perfect oneness. There is no conflict; no resistance. There is only that flame—that something that refuses even the shackle of a name.

The strange contradiction of such discussions however, is that this thing which exists more as a quality than as an idea must be put into words. Time and again, as the essence of the thought shone forth quietly and simply, it was pounced upon by an argument, and confusion followed. We found that we must learn to perceive from a more vital centre than the logical mind. The extreme value of these talks, to many of us, is that they have awakened an unexpected awareness which does not depend entirely upon communication through language. A certain delicate sense of adventure has been imparted to life. Even truth may be something very different from what we have thought.

Fred Leidig and wife and Mrs. R. G. Leidig drove to Mariposa this week to look after some mining property.

"DRUNKARD" COMPANY BACK SUNDAY NIGHT

If the Denny-Watrous Gallery had combed the west for a suitable attraction for the opening night in its new quarters in the old Manzanita Theatre on October 7, it could not have done better than to bring the stars of the San Francisco Drunkard company in a Variety Show and Olio, specially arranged by Galt Bell, director, for the Gallery.

And that is the way it is. Peggy Converse, Connie Clappett (now so delightfully Connie Bell) the famous vaudeville pair, Rice and Cady, Neely Edwards, that incomparable Master of Ceremonies, and Nestor Paiva, all accompanied by the cow-boy accordionist Norman McNeil, one and all will be on the Gallery stage this coming Sunday night, October 7, in two hilarious, fun-making shows. From seven to nine, from nine to eleven, and "the hindmost" is apt to be left on the sidewalk having to hear from without the shrieks of laughter and wild applause.

Neely Edwards, M. C., (the Drunkard name for Master of Ceremonies) will introduce all the acts and lead the singing of old songs, and "gag" the two silent films with which the show closes, "East Lynne" and Mary Pickford in "The New York Hat." How the program will run will depend on how much the audience itself will allow the acts to proceed but some such order as this has been planned by Galt Bell:

"There is a tavern in the Town", Peggy Converse and audience.

"On a Bicycle Built for Two" "Bicycle in Person" Connie Clappett and Nestor Paiva.

Rice and Cady, famous vaudeville pair. Surprise features for Carmel. Also their "Schmitzel-bank" with audience.

"Little Nell", Connie, Rice and Cady, Paiva and "dummy."

"By the Sea", Bathing suit hit, by Peggy and Connie.

"Ta ra ra BOOMde A" by Peggy.

Silent films. "Goodnight Ladies", Seven o'clock audience out, nine o'clock in and the Drunkard company Olio, "going strong." Walls resounding.

The Drunkard company Olio shows Sunday night only. The silent films continue throughout the week, beginning at eight in the evening, at Movies prices.

MISSION GUILD CARD PARTY NEXT TUESDAY

Whist, auction or contract—take your choice at the card party to be given by the ladies of the Old Mission Guild next Tuesday evening at Serra Crespi hall.

Little Patricia Machado, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Machado, informed a Sun reporter today that she had a little sister who came to their house night before last. She gravely gave out the information that the newcomer weighed "one pound" and that they could name her "Mar'wiese" but she guessed they wouldn't. The baby was born early Sunday morning and mother and child are doing well.

THE ROMA, NEW STORE OPENS IN MONTEREY

In a lovely new building, S. Bileci, for three and one-half years in a smaller building a few feet down the street, will open The Roma Market for business Saturday at 250 Main Street, Monterey.

It is a pleasure to see such a beautiful building and fresh new stock as may be seen at The Roma.

Mr. Bileci has taken an ad with the Sun this week to tell of a few of the bargains he is offering to celebrate his moving to his fine new quarters. He is assisted by Mrs. Bileci and one son and one daughter in waiting on his customers.

The meat department is under the management of Claude Cardinale who shares with Mr. Bileci in pride in the new location and fixtures.

ERNST BACON DIRECTS WINTER ORCHESTRA

Ernst Bacon, San Francisco musician, who for several years was assistant director of the American Opera company in Rochester, N. Y., and a well known San Francisco musician, will direct the Monterey Peninsula Orchestra, taking the place of Michael Penha, for the coming season. The first rehearsal of the winter season will be held in the Denny-Watrous gallery the first Sunday in November at 8 o'clock.

MUSICAL ARTS CLUB ENJOYS FINE PROGRAM

The Musical Arts club met Tuesday evening in the beautiful home of Mrs. Van Ess and Miss MacGowan in Pebble Beach, where a program in charge of Mrs. Ruth Bingham Herman, the president was enjoyed.

After announcement of coming musical events by Mrs. Millicent Sears, Mrs. Herman presented first Mr. Frank Wickman, noted teacher, now living at The Highlands, who gave a most enlightening lecture on music, stressing the need for more amateurs and more appreciation and understanding of music.

After the lecture, Miss Anne Greene, a pupil of Mr. Wickman, gave a splendid program of piano music. Her playing met with enthusiastic response and her able performance of different numbers displayed remarkable growth and earnest study.

The Musical Arts club holds meetings on the first Tuesday of each month and its membership is open to Peninsula residents who are either musicians themselves or who wish to hear and encourage the work of local musicians.

JACKIE LEIDIG PASSES TESTS; MAKES MOVIES

Carmel may achieve greater fame through young Jackie Leidig, 11 year old son of Mrs. Florence Leidig.

Mrs. Leidig and son have just returned home from Hollywood where screen tests were made of the boy and a part given him in "The King's Highway" a picture which will be filmed on the peninsula soon. Jackie will be the governor's son.

Mrs. Helen Vye has returned home from a four months' visit with relatives in Paris, and is back again at the Carmelita shop. Mrs. Vye stated that France was apparently prosperous and much better off than when she was there four years ago.

CITY COUNCIL MEETS; OLD TIME MEETING

Time turned backward, apparently, Wednesday night, when Ex-Mayor Catlin again took the chair at the regular meeting of the city council, Mayor Thoburn being in Sonoma on his vacation.

The matter of business signs was taken up and discussed at length and it was decided to leave decision on the signs asked by Evelyn Crichton, Joe's Taxi and Hallett's grocery for investigation by Councilman Burge, commissioner of streets. Hallett asked for permission to install lights above his window to throw the illumination downward.

A tree on the Lemos place was ordered cut, the owner having been given until October first to have it done, it being considered a menace to public safety.

City Clerk Saidee Van Brower made an impassioned plea to the council to save the trees. When City Attorney Argyle Campbell asked her whether or not her attitude bordered on coercion, she remarked, "Put me in jail—I'm going to fight for trees as long as I live." Atty. Argyle Campbell then read what purported to be a resolution calling for the cutting of all trees located in Miss Van Brower's residence block, and suggested a city song, "Woodman, Spare that Tree."

Miss Van Brower was apparently not impressed by the resolution and stated that she wished the 56 eucalyptus trees which had recently been condemned could be reset in her yard.

Miss Clara KeKillogg wrote asking that a committee be appointed to make recommendations for beautifying Scenic drive before any more work was done on that street. Councilman Burge stated that the work was practically all done that would be done for some time except for widening below the Call property.

Curb and gutter for the lower end of Ocean avenue was discussed to keep the street from washing away. It is estimated it will cost 50 cents a foot.

Chief of Police Gus Englund asked and received permission to take his vacation from October 10 to 24.

The city clerk made a plea that the penalties should be removed from delinquent taxes, but was informed that in towns where that method had been tried to relieve the taxpayers, the result had been that no one paid taxes until everything else had been taken care of.

The reduction of the pay of city employees was continued until January 1, 1935.

The council adjourned to meet Oct. 17, in order to attend to details connected with election for city hall bonds.

SUNDAY SCHOOL READY FOR WINTER TERM

With Mrs. D. E. Nixon as principal of the primary department, that branch of the Community Sunday school is off for a good start for the winter term.

The cradle roll has been placed under the supervision of Mrs. Eula Douglas, who will enroll all babies up to 4 years of age, whose mothers are interested in the work.

The beginners class will be taught by Mrs. Amy Milar and the first year primary by Mrs. Vive Harber, while Mrs. Morehouse will have charge of the second year primary. The third year will be in charge of Mrs. Turnage, and the first year junior, under Mrs. Campbell's guidance. Edna Lockwood is a substitute teacher.

Sunday school begins promptly at 9:45 with a devotional period, followed by a missionary story and a period of worship. The primary department has increased in attendance from 10 to 32 since the organization.

Reginald Markham and wife closed out their shop which had been located for the past few months in the Pine Inn. Their plans for the present are indefinite but they hope later to make a tour of Europe.

TESTING OIL LEVEL

Improper use of the bayonet-type oil level indicator is often a cause of mistakes. It is unwise to assume that if the bayonet is found well covered with oil upon being withdrawn the oil supply is sufficient. The proper method is first to have the car standing on level ground. The motor should be left stopped for a few minutes to permit oil to drain back into the crankcase. The bayonet should be removed, wiped clean, and inserted again to get an exact reading.

HATFIELD CHARGES SINCLAIR A SOCIALIST

Charging that "Upton Sinclair's campaign is a campaign of class hatred, definitely trending toward revolution," George J. Hatfield, progressive Republican nominee for Lieutenant-Governor, in a state-wide radio broadcast recently made by him defined the issue at California's forthcoming general election as a "clear-cut decision between Americanism and Communism."

Hitting straight - from the shoulder, Hatfield, former United States Attorney for Northern California, listed the Communist affiliations of Sinclair and told his radio audience that "A vote for Sinclair and his associates on the Socialistic-Communist-Democratic ticket is a vote to Russianize California state government."

"If you have any doubt of the Communist leanings of Upton Sinclair," said Hatfield, "it is only necessary that I should quote the record. And I will quote in this instance a record substantiated by Upton Sinclair himself."

Hatfield warned that the Sinclair "dream of Utopia would plunge us from distress into chaos," declaring that the colossal land colonization scheme proposed to care for the unemployed would "drive our permanent farm population into bankruptcy and aggravate the problem of unemployment, instead of relieving it."

"California agriculture, today, is over-produced in virtually every branch," affirmed Hatfield "with our farm population fighting desperately for a new foothold." And the Federal government, under President Roosevelt, has spent billions of dollars to reduce over-production and minimize the problem. Yet Upton Sinclair and his associates areas to compete with our permanent farm population. That, we should increase production in California I maintain; is the height of stupidity by throwing thousands of un-

SCOUT COURT OF HONOR PROMISES LOTS OF FUN

The residents of Carmel and the Monterey Peninsula are urged to be present at the Boy Scout Court of Honor program to be presented at 8:00 p. m. on Friday, October 12th, in the Sunset School auditorium.

The program will present a new departure and is intended to briefly and dramatically portray incidents in the life of a Boy Scout while in camp. The announcer, Freer Gottfried, will recite Creeds and Codes of Honor following with a short introduction to the play.

The curtain opens depicting routine happenings in a Scout camp somewhere in the Wilderness. The action shows boys bandaging, tying knots, and giving a life-saving demonstration.

The announcer for the second act, Earl Dorrance, will stress the ideals of friendship, citizenship and loyalty that are strengthened and developed through Scouting.

When the curtain opens for the second act the audience will see boys gathered about a campfire in the dusk of early evening. They are playing musical instruments and singing. An Indian Chief arrives on the scene and speaks of his people. The curtain closes on a silent reverent scene.

The following boys will take part in the play: Freer Gottfried, Earle Dorrance, Bob Farley, Frank Hayford, Edgar Leslie, Pat Crichton, Jack Pelton, Jerry Neikirk, Larry McLaren, Hugh Smith, Frank Ross, Martin Artillan, Homer Levinson, Jack Pelton, Emory Nielson, Allan Wood, Victor Candia, Jimmy Rand. Names of others will be added later.

Immediately following the short play, awards will be made to Scouts who have progressed in Scoutercraft. A prominent Peninsula Scout leader will make the presentation.

Scouts and parents will come from Pacific Grove, Monterey, New Monterey, East Monterey and Seaside. The public is cordially invited to attend.

LOW BATTERY

Allowing a battery to stand for any length of time in a low or discharged condition shortens its life.

Mrs. R. G. Brooks is leaving for Minneapolis, Minn., to visit in her old home for an indefinite time. Her address in Minneapolis will be the Leamington hotel.

HOME IMPROVEMENT GOVERNMENT LOANS

Leaky roofs are the chief concern of city home owners, while wells and other sources of water supply are the main worry of the farmers, according to an analysis of the requests for information being received by the Federal Housing Administration.

Painting comes next in both lists and frequently is coupled with roofs in the inquiries from city dwellers.

Home owners and farmers are by no means the only ones seeking modernization information from the FHA. Owners of apartment houses are deeply interested, according to the mail analysis as well as owners of small stores and shops. Some of the shop owners, however, can also be classed as home owners, as they own the building and live over the shop.

Farmers also are interested in many things in addition to wells. They inquire about the possibility of modernization loans for fences and gates, garages, poultry houses, smoke houses and similar small buildings. Lightning and fire protection, insulation, reconstruction of faulty chimneys, stronger foundations, installation of plumbing, wiring and other improvements are in the list.

Those farmers needing new wells also inquire about such

AIR VENT NEEDED

The fuel pump or vacuum tank cannot draw fuel from the supply tank unless there is an air vent in the filler cap, according to the road service of the California State Automobile association. Sometimes this cap becomes clogged with rust or other foreign substance, which interferes with the normal flow of fuel to the carburetor. The same condition occurs when a lost cap is replaced with a plug which does not permit passage of sufficient air. Many road service calls are due to failure to realize that there must be an air vent in the filler cap or else, where in the fuel tank.

Mrs. Helen Ware of Carmel, was a guest at the Hollywood Roosevelt hotel the past week.

Items as windmills, pumps, tanks and cisterns, piping, troughs and other things required to get the greatest use from the wells they hope to dig with the proceeds of their modernization loans.

All these improvements are eligible under the regulations governing Modernization Loans, according to FHA officials, and the inquirers should be able to get the loans they desire from the banks or other lending institutions in their own communities, providing these institutions approve.

JOHN O'SHEA EXHIBIT AT DENNY-WATROUS

When John O'Shea, painter, gives an exhibit, it is an event in any gallery. This well-known, brilliant painter, who lives so quietly in Carmel Highlands, now sketching down the coast, now spending a few months on desert or in Tahiti, gives the first exhibit on the walls of the Denny-Watrous gallery in its new location on San Carlos, just off Ocean. The showing opens tomorrow afternoon, Saturday, at three o'clock. It will include some of Mr. O'Shea's most recent paintings, and be characteristic of his bold, striking color and design.

SUNSET SCHOOL NOTES

Student Body Organization
The Student Body of the Sunset School held an election on Wednesday, September 26, at which time officers for the fall semester were elected. Homer Levinson was elected president, Bob Farley, vice-president, Jane Millis, secretary, and Lee Van Atta, business manager.
There will be a Student Body meeting, Friday, October 12th at which time the newly-elected officers will be installed and plans for the fall semester considered. The student organization affords an opportunity for the pupils of the five upper grades to learn self-expression, become familiar with parliamentary procedure and carryout many worthwhile projects.

Sunset School Library

The Sunset School Library has been divided into two sections this year. In the outer office will be found all the students' reference books, teachers' library books, school magazines and periodicals. This division is in charge of Mrs. Anna Kohner or the girl on office duty. These books can only be borrowed for one day.

In the 7A room, several new library shelves have been built, and there you will find a very fine and attractive selection of fiction stories, as well as many travel and history stories. These books are in charge of Mrs. Ann B. Uzzell, seventh grade teacher. Library hour will be on Tuesday and Thursday of each week. Children may come to this room during the library hour, and select any book they would like to read. These books may be borrowed for a period of one week.

The school feels this will enable the child to find the kind of book he wishes to read more readily, as well as encouraging more children to read good books.

Eighth Grade Play

An unusual type of school play will be presented on Friday, October nineteenth. This play has three objectives; first to interest boys and girls in learning to play a musical instrument, second, to familiarize them with a great piece of music; and third, to show them a glimpse into the life of one of the masters of music. Ludwig Von Beethoven. The musical theme running through the entire play is the beautiful "Minuet in G." A feature of the play will be Max Hagemeier's playing of the cello, and Jane Millis' piano solo. In the final scene those two young artists will be accompanied by the entire orchestra of Sunset School. The play was written and will be directed by R. J. Gale. The musical score will be under the direction of Miss Madeline Curry.

Programs for October

The first officers of the Student Body this year will be inaugurated on October 12th. This will take place in our beautiful, new auditorium. Since October twelfth is to be the four hundred and forty-second anniversary of the discovery of America, a Columbus day program will be given by the fourth and seventh grades.

This program will include poems, reports and a short Columbus play.

Mrs. Lillian P. Allen, who was connected with the millinery department of the Style Shop, has gone to Oakland to make her home.

Johnny Patrick, better known as "Cecil" of "Cecil and Sally," fame, has been signed up for a skit with Fanchon and Marco. He will have a new partner, however as Sally has not time to take over the new duties. Mr. Patrick has been here in the Bob Jones house for some time.

CHARLES GUTH HOME FROM LOS ANGELES

Charles Guth, traffic officer, returned home Saturday from Los Angeles where he had taken Mrs. Guth a week before to attend the funeral services of her brother-in-law, George Meshmeyer.

Mr. Meshmeyer was riding with a friend on the Glendale highway when the car hit a pillar supporting a viaduct and killed both men instantly. The car was completely demolished, being split in two and the engine passing through the body and half way to the back. The driver was thrown half way through the non-shatter windshield and the steering rod was bent almost double.

Dr. Meyer and daughter, Charlotte, spent the week-end with Mrs. Meyer who is wintering at La Playa hotel.

Charles, younger son of Mr. Teresa Durante, has returned home from Salinas where he was in the hospital for several days with an acute attack of appendicitis. He will not undergo an operation at this time.
